

Leadership Presence, Polish and Panache

This book is a practical, informative and entertaining guide to facilitate your continuing development as a leader for life, with a focus on: Leadership Presence, Leadership Polish and Leadership Panache.

How do you show up when you lead? Do others acknowledge and respect you as a leader based on the image you project? Like cars, silverware, and furniture which have their own sheen and luster that must be polished, a leader must have that development, accomplishment, persona and gloss that has softened the rough edges and serves to promote the leader as someone of quality and substance. Finally, the leader must have that panache -- a swagger without a stagger, that has substance and depth, wisdom and knowledge. This book combines these in an interesting perspective that facilitate ones journey as a leader in organizations, ones own business, or sphere of influence and as a leader for life.
