

A Guide to Serial Bibliographies for Modern Literatures (Selected Bibliographies in Language & Literature)

The First edition of A Guide to Serial Bibliographies for Modern Literatures was praised by The Years Work in English Studies as an excellent and very useful work of reference. The new edition, updated and expanded, includes information on electronic serial bibliographies. The guide lists 777 serial bibliographies, including the major humanities and general periodical indexes; works that cover national literatures, literary periods, genres, themes and subjects, and literary authors; and other bibliographies in subjects related to literature, to literary study, and to the literary profession. It describes reference tools such as the Vertical File Index and Essay and General Literature Index, electronic databases and information services such as Lexis/Nexis and Ethnic Newswatch, and bibliographies that are published as part of journals and newsletters such as Hispania and the Keats Shelley Journal. A standard resource for any reference collection in the humanities, A Guide to Serial Bibliographies for Modern Literatures will be invaluable to graduate students and scholars of modern languages.
