

Executive Crumple Zone

Told in a series of e-mails, this spirited novel, follows the adventures of high-energy entrepreneur Dave Powers. When he becomes head of marketing in a large health insurance company, he has no idea that hes in store for the roller-coaster ride of his life. Used to operating independently, hes shocked by the twists and turns of office politics and departmental turf wars, and the behind-the-scenes shenanigans of narcissistic bosses and groveling sycophants. A cautionary tale filled with laughter and despair, the novel entertains while documenting the accomplishments and frustrations of a creative outsider. Daves roughshod ride through the corridors of corporate bureaucracy is as hilarious as it is heart-breaking. His story of creative triumphs, managerial incompetence and exasperating fiascos is an object lesson of the realities of power, greed, folly and success in todays dysfunctional business world.
